This is the ground that can be drawn.

Enstar sells gas to almost half of Alaska’s population and gets nearly all of its supply from Hilcorp. Southcentral runs more than 70 percent of its electricity on gas, per Alaska Public Media citing ISER.

The cushion is a characterisation.

Enstar president John Sims told state lawmakers in August the utility was about 3 Bcf short of ideal storage.

"This doesn't mean we will be short this many days this winter. Rather, it demonstrates how tight the situation is and our reduced resources to respond to unexpected events."

One lever is available this winter.

ENSTAR SAID MODEST THERMOSTAT ADJUSTMENTS DOWN TO 65 DEGREES, WHERE SAFE AND PRACTICAL, COULD HELP REDUCE DEMAND DURING PERIODS OF EXTREME COLD.

ENSTAR DOES NOT NOW ANTICIPATE COSMOPOLITAN GAS BEFORE Q1 2027. A NIKISKI IMPORT PROJECT MAY NOT BE READY BEFORE Q4 2029, AS KENAI'S MAYOR RELAYED IT.

Two of thirty six days carry no reading.

A failed day carries no number forward. Demand model 2.0 is published in full. Its demand is modeled, not measured.

The order reaches the public through one mayor.

Kenai Mayor Henry Knackstedt met Enstar’s president and other Southcentral mayors on August 21st, 2026, then told his city council what Enstar described.

A data center buys power, and Southcentral makes more than 70 percent of its power from gas.

Should the order of cuts be public before the next large load is sited?
