UPDATE · HOUSTON LAND TRANSFER · ADL 234762

The decision could beat December 7th. The handoff likely won't.

19,950 ACRES, TWO MILES NORTH OF HOUSTON

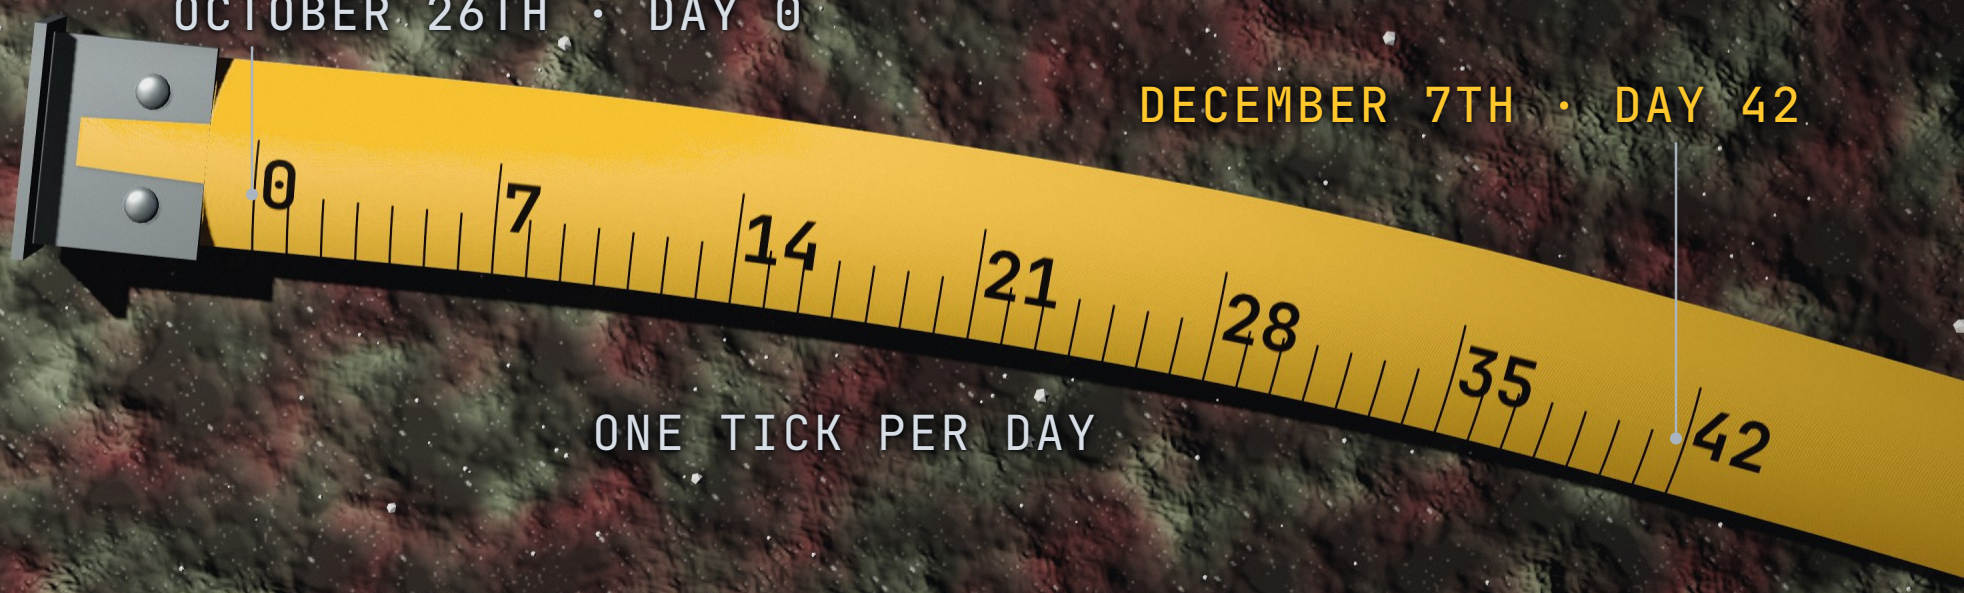

ILLUSTRATION

OCTOBER 26TH · SENATE RESOURCES, UNDER SUBPOENA

"Certainly possible."

DNR COMMISSIONER JOHN CROWTHER, ON APPROVAL BEFORE DECEMBER 7TH, PER ADN

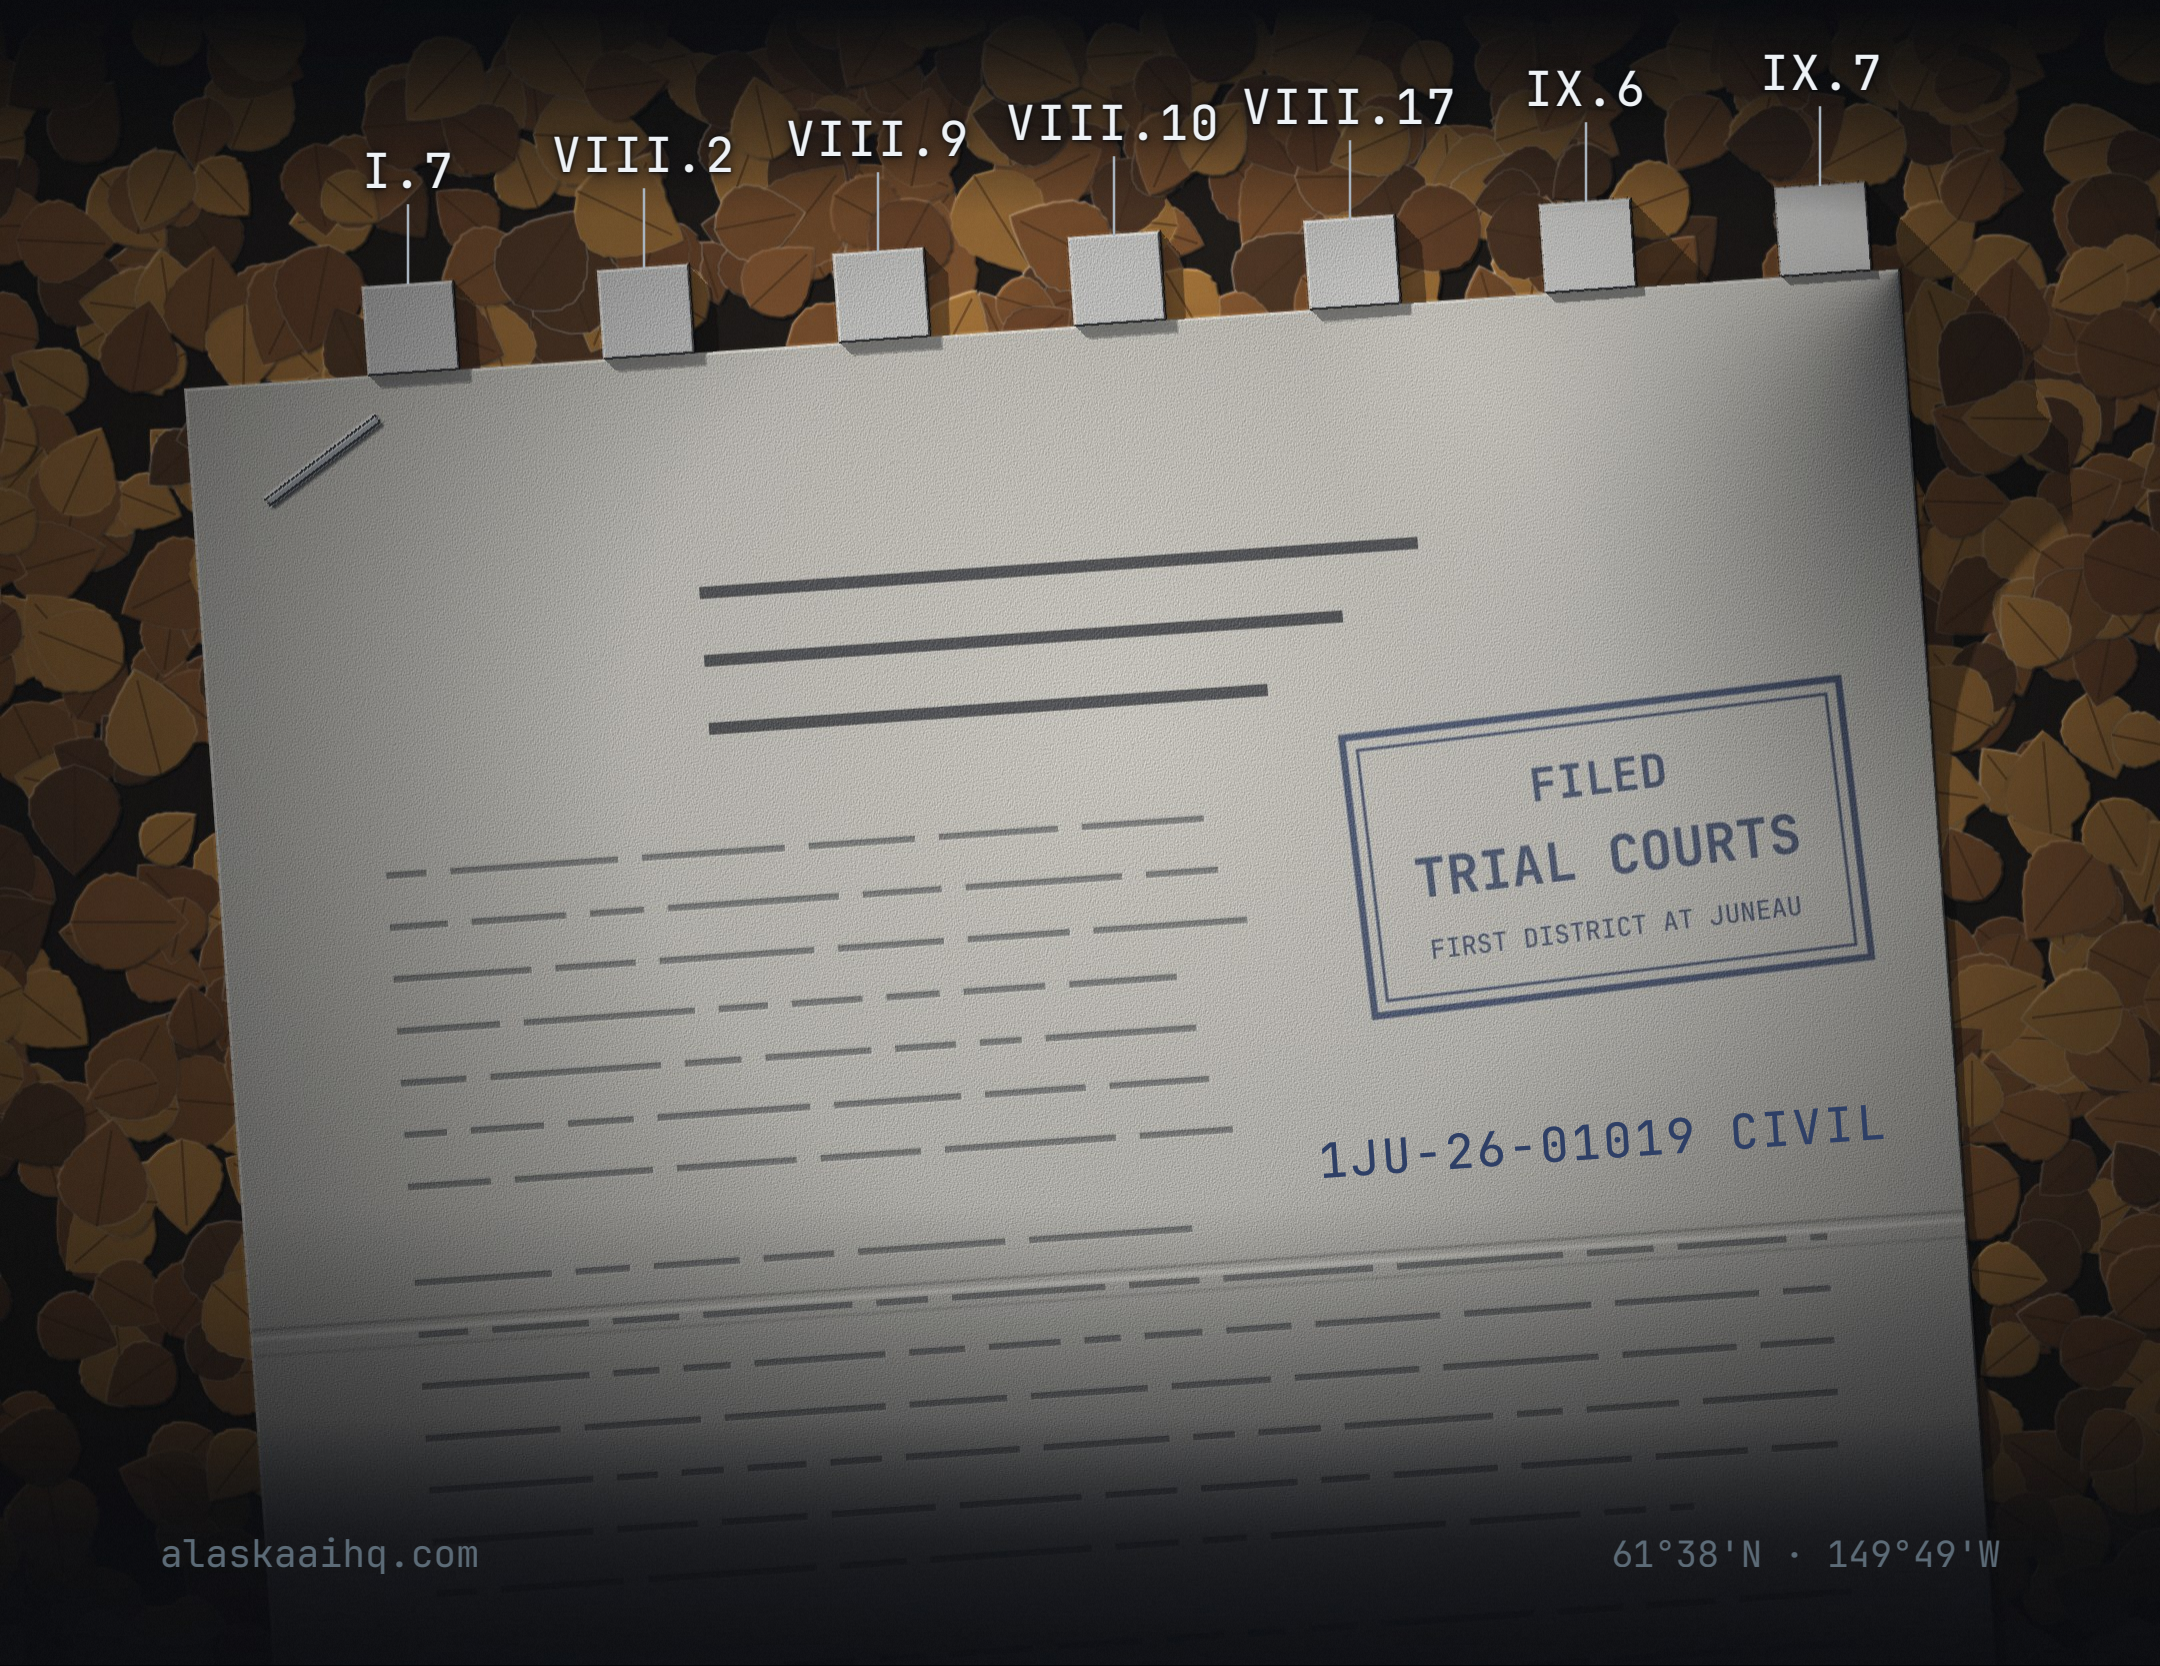

He told senators "using our land for development has been the governor's priority." Surveying, the appeal period and the lawsuit would likely carry the transfer past December 7th, ADN reported.

OCTOBER 22ND · SUPERIOR COURT, JUNEAU

A lawsuit cites seven sections of the constitution.

Eric Forrer and David Eastman sued the State, DNR and Governor Dunleavy. AIDEA isn't a named party. "We sued just to stop him," Forrer told the Mat-Su Sentinel.

THE SUMMONS · TO THE DEPARTMENT OF NATURAL RESOURCES

The State's 40 days start only at service.

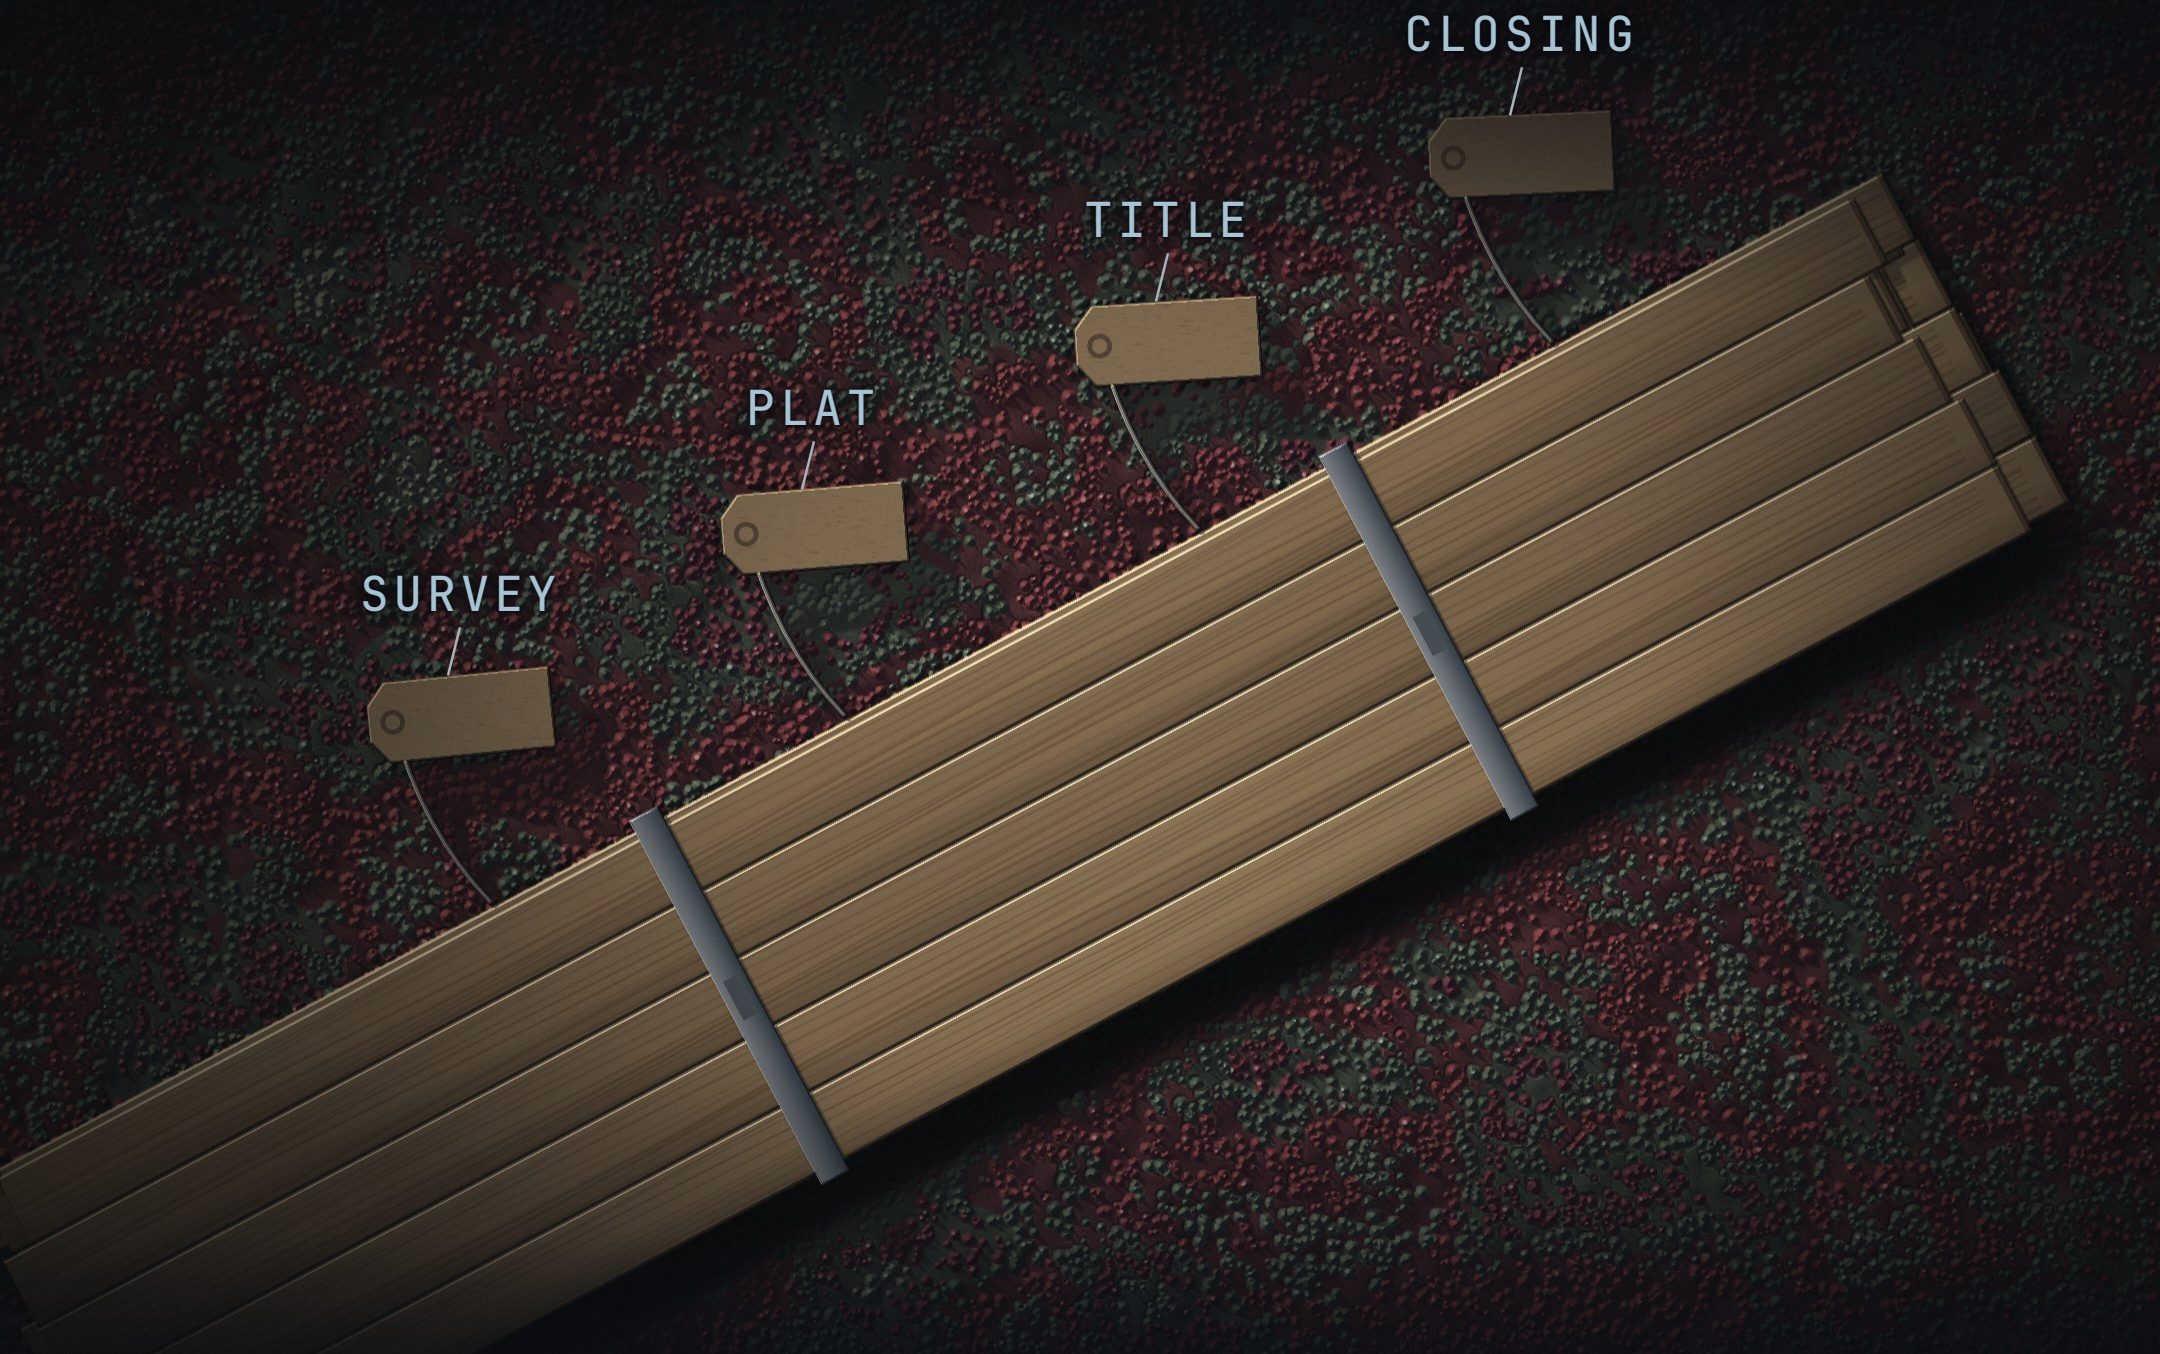

DNR hadn't been served when the Mat-Su Sentinel asked.

EARLIER RECORD · AIDEA FACT SHEET, JULY

A decision isn't a deed.

If DNR approves, survey, plat, title and closing must be completed before any conveyance. On October 8th AIDEA's Randy Ruaro told lawmakers no developer, tenant, power source or site plan exists, KTUU reported.

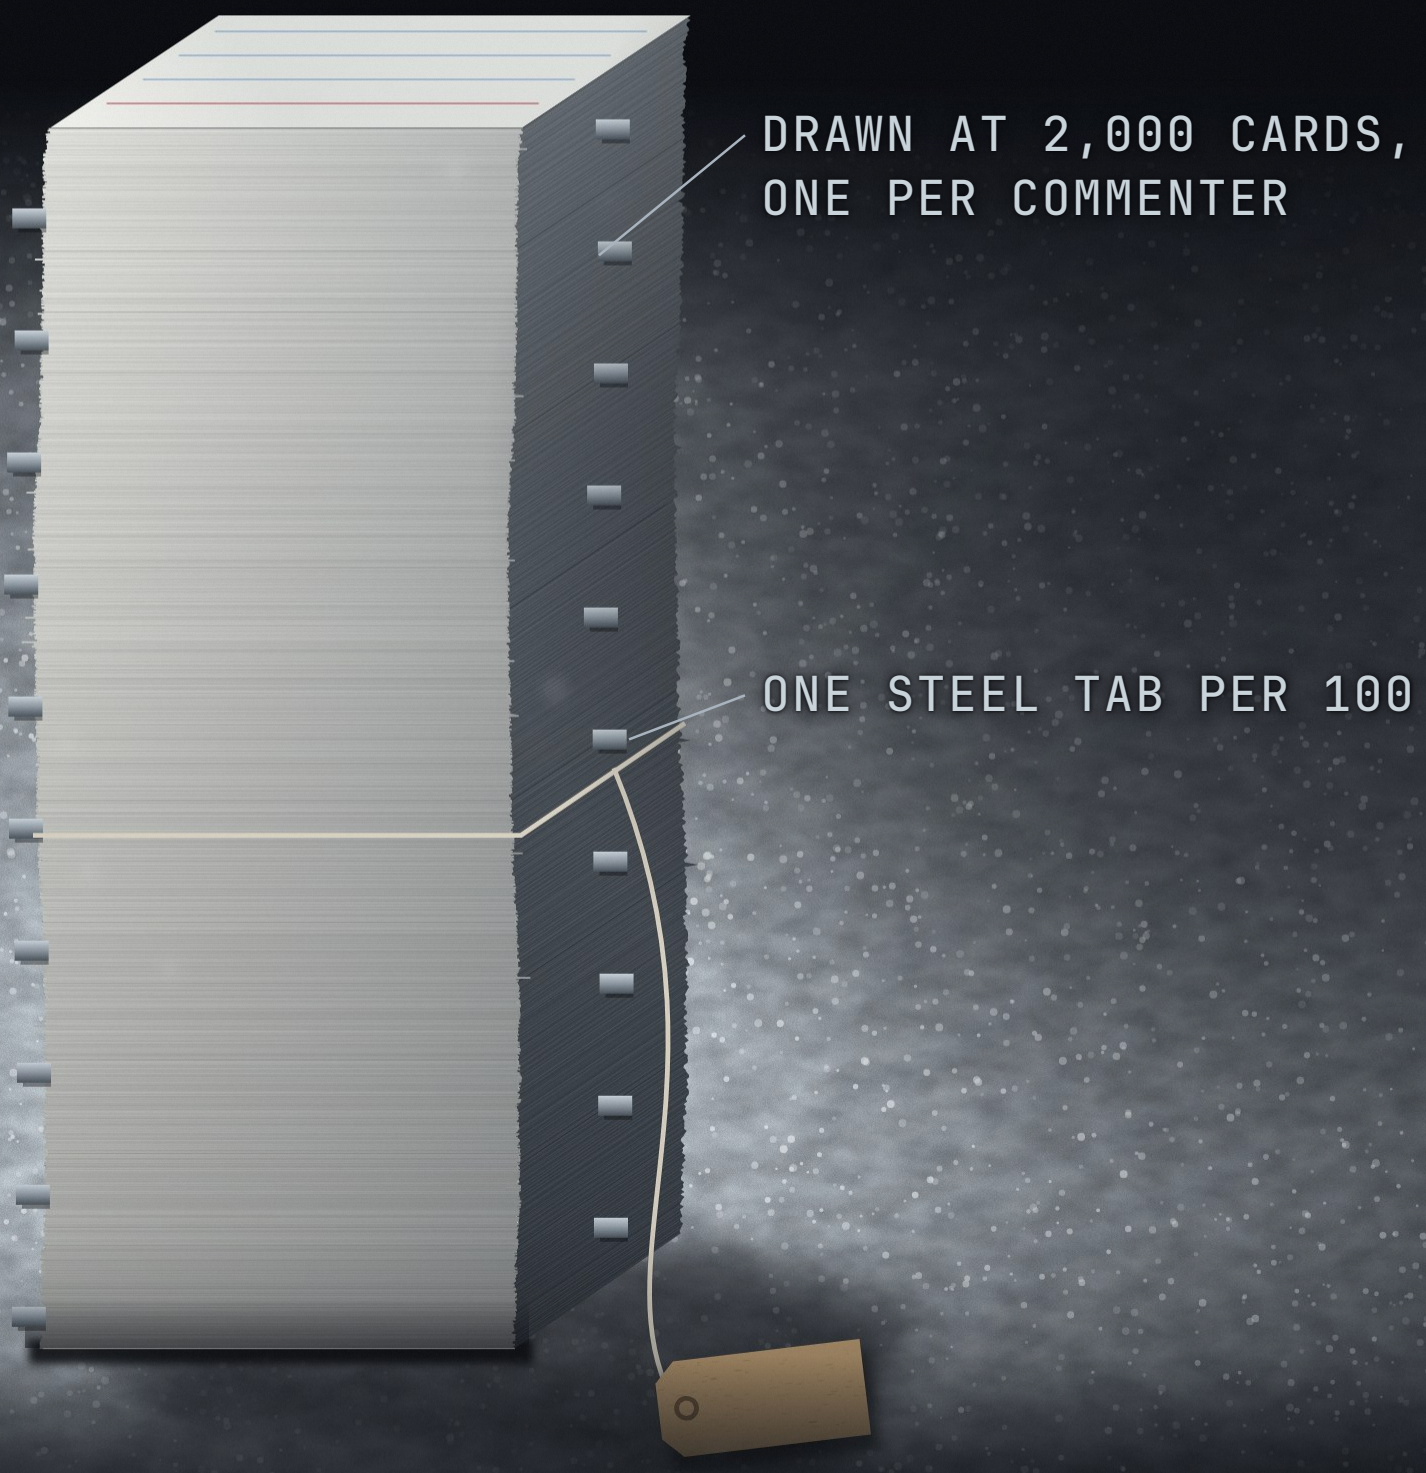

19,950 acres.

ABOUT 30 SQUARE MILES ·
MORE THAN 2,000 PUBLIC COMMENTS

AFTER A FINAL FINDING · THE APPEAL PERIOD

More than 2,000 people can ask DNR to reconsider.

Only people who sent timely written comment can appeal DNR's Final Finding and Decision. Comments closed August 19th, and DNR is still reviewing them, ADN reported.

THE LEDGER · AS OF OCTOBER 27TH

What has a date, and what doesn't.

DATED

JULY 10TH
DNR posts its notice

AUGUST 19TH
Comment period closes

OCTOBER 8TH
AIDEA names no tenant

OCTOBER 14TH
Senators vote to subpoena

OCTOBER 22ND
Lawsuit filed in Juneau

OCTOBER 26TH
Crowther testifies

DECEMBER 7TH
Next governor sworn in

NOT YET DATED

Final Finding and Decision

Appeal period, timely commenters only

Survey

Plat

Title

Closing

State's answer, 40 days after service

SPACING IS NOT TIME

December 7th ends a term.

It doesn't survey 19,950 acres.

Save this for the day DNR's Final Finding lands.

