

UPDATE

Of 150 cited, 119 used AI.

The rule says "devices."

DEAN OF STUDENTS OFFICE REPORT, AS REPORTED BY THE ANCHORAGE DAILY NEWS

ILLUSTRATIVE HALL. 1 SEAT = 1 STUDENT. MARKED 1

THE SHARE

1.1 percent.

119 of the more than 10,500 students at UAA last semester. Small as a share, AI cases are now the majority of the conduct office's caseload, the report says.

- 150 SEATS DOWN, CITED
- 119 WITH GOLD, USED AI

THE COVER'S SEAT

DRAWN 10,500. DOWN 150. GOLD 119. MORE BEYOND, UNCOUNTED

THE RULE THAT REACHES AI

"utilizing devices not authorized by faculty members"

That clause of UAA's student conduct code is how AI cases are handled. It never names AI. Each instructor decides what is authorized, course by course.

1 CLAUSE. 7 WORDS. 0 OF THEM AI

alaskaaihq.com

61°11'N 149°49'W

COURSE BY COURSE

Every syllabus must address AI. No two have to agree.

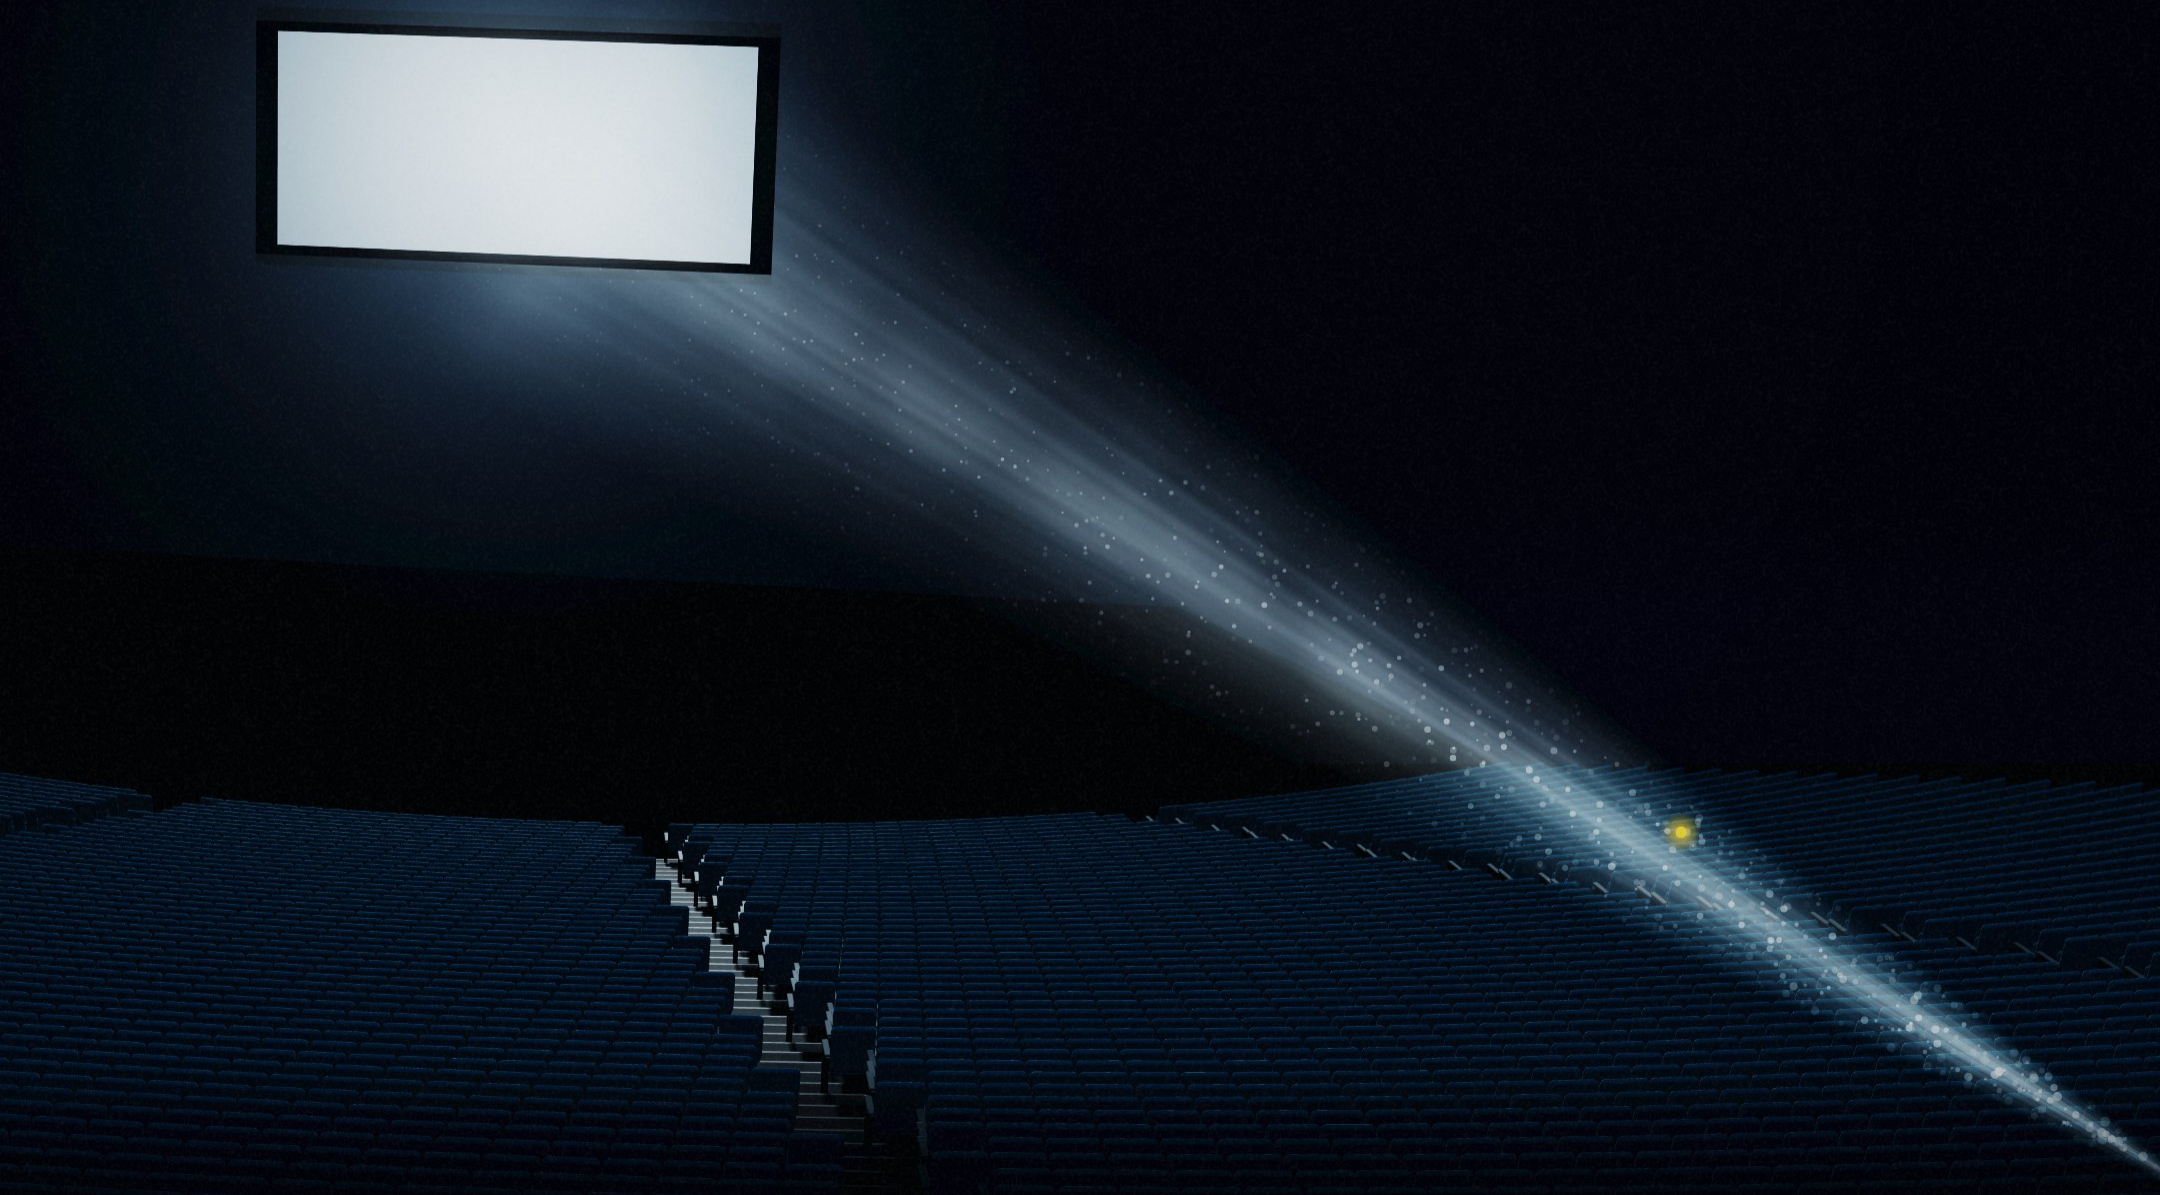

Professors may allow as much or as little AI as they like, a structure UAA’s Faculty Senate asked for. UAA discourages AI checkers. Many faculty use them anyway, writing professor Andrew Harnish said.

7 SYLLABI SHOWN, ILLUSTRATIVE. 1 AI LINE EACH

"There is no instruction manual."

AARON DOTSON, UAA VICE CHANCELLOR

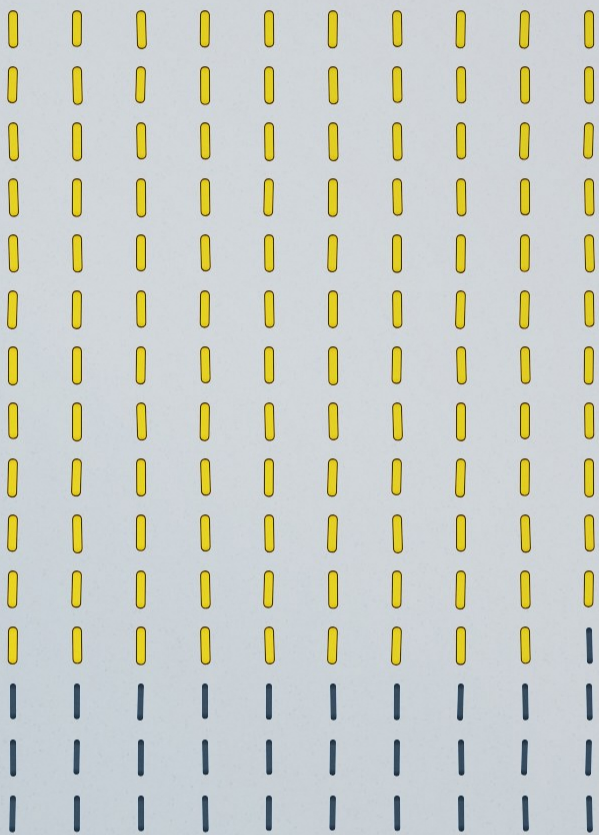

1 SEAT = 1 STUDENT. 1 IN THE BEAM

THE RECORD, IN ITS OWN WORDS

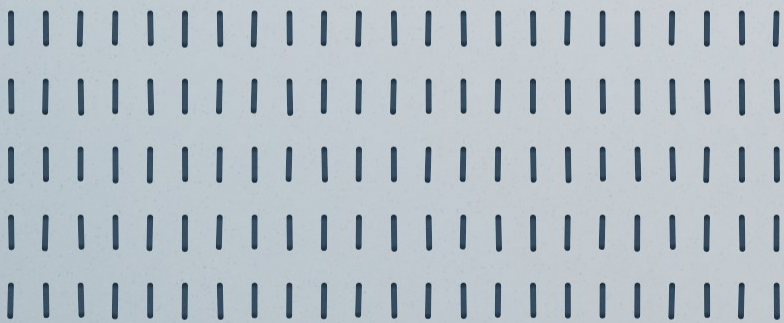

Two reports. Two different counts.

THIS YEAR'S REPORT, RELEASED IN AUGUST
150 students cited for academic misconduct. 119 used AI.

THE REPORT'S OWN RISES
73% AI USE FOR PLAGIARISM
56% MISCONDUCT OVERALL

A YEAR EARLIER
115 students found responsible, of more than 8,800. About two-thirds of cases AI-related.

Cited is not found responsible. Read each count alone, not as a trend. The regents take up AI principles in November.

Dean of Students Office reports, as reported by the Anchorage Daily News. This year's report was produced with assistance from generative AI tools.

1 TICK = 1 STUDENT

Student government member Brigitta Taaga pushed back that the draft didn't go far enough.

Should the regents write what a student may do with AI, or leave it to each syllabus?

✦ ALASKA.AI

1 SEAT = 1 STUDENT. RULE UNWRITTEN

alaskaaihq.com

61°11'N 149°49'W