

ALASKA VOTER ROLLS

WHERE ARE THE 3,048?

The state hasn't said.

HOW IT HAPPENED

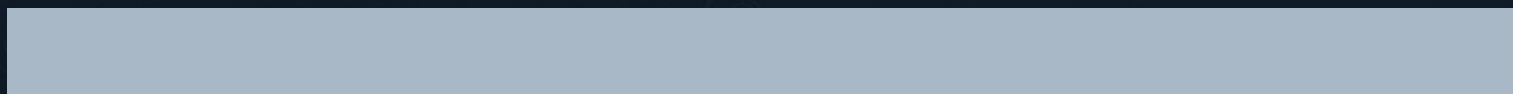

Elections asked the DMV to compare lists.

That is how the two agencies described it in a joint statement. The request went in March 2026. Nothing in the reporting describes a model, a score, or any system more complicated than one list held against another.

WHY IT MISSES

Two true records, different order.

Some Alaskans got a license before they were citizens, then registered after they naturalized. Both records are true. A comparison of two present-tense lists has no way to see which came first.

"some of this is probably very old data"

CAROL BEECHER, DIRECTOR OF ELECTIONS,
JULY 22 HEARING

PROBABLY IS HER WORD.

ANCHORAGE

ONE OF THEM

"Why would they take it off and reinstate me with a name that is not legally mine?"

JEANNIE MCLEOD, 75, ANCHORAGE

She legally changed her first name from Emily to Jeannie when she became a citizen in 2024. Last Thursday a voter card arrived carrying the old name.

HER ACCOUNT. NO SOURCE LINKS THE NAME CHANGE TO THE FLAG.

ANCHORAGE

How many of the 3,048
are records like hers?

NO ONE HAS SAID.

WHAT THE LETTER ASKS

Check the box, or stay inactive.

17 DAYS TO THE AUGUST 18 PRIMARY

RESPOND

Check a box to say you are a citizen, or call or email the division.

DON'T RESPOND

The registration stays on the inactive list.

EITHER WAY

You can still vote a questioned ballot, attesting you are a citizen and a valid voter.

NO PUBLISHED ACCOUNT DESCRIBES A HUMAN CHECK
BETWEEN THE FLAG AND THE STATUS CHANGE.

THE PUSHBACK

Legislators asked for the names back.

A bipartisan group asked the elections director to put every name back on the active list unless ineligibility has been established. Alaska Public Media counted 23 signers. Alaska's News Source counted 20.

"cancelled illegally and without just cause"

THE LETTER'S WORDS. AN ALLEGATION, NOT A FINDING.

AS OF AUGUST 1 THE DIVISION HAD NOT PUBLICLY REVERSED THE ACTION AND HAD SAID IT WOULD RESPOND.

THE OTHER READING

Cleaning the rolls is the division's job.

"This is actually their job."

REP. KEVIN MCCABE

The Division of Elections and the DMV said in a joint statement that all the qualified voters who received these letters can still vote in the upcoming elections.

LIST MAINTENANCE IS THE JOB.
THE QUESTION IS THE CHECK.

3,048 MARKS. NO BOROUGH TO PUT THEM IN.
WHAT THE STATE CAN LOCATE

The acres are on a map.
The people are not.

The Air Force can put 4,700 acres in twelve parcels on a map at Joint Base Elmendorf Richardson, Eielson and Clear, and has offered them for AI data centers. The 3,048 have no borough, no census area, no dot.

BACKGROUND. U.S. AIR FORCE,

Two lists is the simplest automation there is.
It still did this.

Alaska is deciding how much authority to give AI systems. This is the bar it applies now.

Save this if you know someone who got the letter.
